

For immediate release

Royal Caribbean Unveils New Itineraries and Destinations for Legend of the Seas' 2010 Asian Cruises

SINGAPORE, June 2, 2009 – Royal Caribbean International announced today its spring and summer 2010 Asian itineraries, which are part of its year-round season in Asia with Legend of the Seas. Fans of Legend of the Seas can look forward to a variety of attractive new itineraries and destinations in Asia to choose from.

New Itineraries, New Destinations and New Homeports

As many as 14 different itineraries ranging from four to nine nights are rolled out for this season, with eight being featured for the first time. Moreover, they offer a mixture of exotic and popular new ports-of-call such as Hualien, Miyazaki, Nagoya and Vladivostok, that let cruise enthusiasts to explore even more of the captivating destinations the region has to offer. On top of Singapore, Hong Kong and Shanghai, a new homeport, Yokohama¹, is added for this season.

Highlights of this season include six sailings of four distinct itineraries out of Hong Kong, to destinations including Sanya, Hue/Danang, Taipei and Okinawa. Guests can also experience two different itineraries from Yokohama, one to Shanghai, Jeju and Busan, and the other to Hakodate, Otaru, Vladivostok and Shanghai. There will also be three sailings out of Kaohsiung to ports-of-call such as Halong Bay and Hong Kong.

In addition, the cruises from Shanghai to popular Japanese and Korean destinations such as Kobe, Kagoshima and Busan in particular, are expected to attract the interest of the local and international visitors in the city during the World Expo 2010, as a convenient nearby holiday option.

Details of the itineraries are as follows:

Sailing Dates	Itinerary	Ports of Call
January 4 & 9	5-Night Spice of Southeast Asia Cruise	Singapore, Phuket, Langkawi, Kuala Lumpur (Port Klang), Singapore
January 14	4-Night Isles of Southeast Asia Cruise	Singapore, Kuala Lumpur (Port Klang), Phuket, Singapore
January 28	9-Night Exotic Asia Cruise	Singapore, Ho Chi Minh City (Vung Tau), Nha Trang, Hue/Danang (Chan May), Halong Bay, Hong Kong, Kaohsiung
February 11	4-Night Taste of Vietnam Cruise	Kaohsiung, Halong Bay, Hong Kong

¹ Yokohama is the port for Tokyo.

February 15	5-Night Gems of Asia Cruise	Hong Kong, Taipei, Hualien, Hong Kong
February 25, March 8	5-Night Gems of Asia Cruise	Hong Kong, Kaohsiung, Hualien, Taipei, Hong Kong
February 20	5-Night Indo-China Explorer Cruise	Hong Kong, Halong Bay, Hue/Danang (Chan May), Sanya, Hong Kong
March 2	6-Night Indo-China Explorer Cruise	Hong Kong, Sanya, Hue/Danang (Chan May), Halong Bay, Hong Kong
March 13	5-Night Hong Kong to Shanghai Cruise	Hong Kong, Taipei (Overnight), Okinawa, Shanghai
March 18 & 23	5-Night Asian Legacies Cruise	Shanghai, Kagoshima, Busan, Shanghai
March 28, April 11, June 20, July 4 & 18	7-Night Pearls of the Orient Cruise	Shanghai, Miyazaki, Kobe, Fukuoka, Busan, Shanghai
April 4 & 18, June 27, July 11	7-Night Kyushu Explorer Cruise	Shanghai, Kagoshima, Nagasaki, Fukuoka, Busan, Shanghai
April 25	7-Night Shanghai to Yokohama Cruise	Shanghai, Okinawa, Kagoshima, Kobe, Nagoya, Tokyo (Yokohama)
May 2 & 10	8-Night Korea & China Cruise	Tokyo (Yokohama), Shanghai (Overnight), Jeju Island, Busan, Tokyo (Yokohama)
May 18	8-Night Yokohama to Shanghai Cruise	Tokyo (Yokohama), Hakodate, Otaru, Vladivostok, Shanghai
May 26 & 31, June 5, 10 & 15	5-Night Asian Legacies Cruise	Shanghai, Fukuoka, Busan, Shanghai

The announced cruises are now available for booking via the Royal Caribbean International website www.royalcaribbean.com as well as its travel agents.

A destination in itself

Onboard the feature-packed Legend of the Seas, vacationers can look forward to an ocean of entertainment and relaxation choices, such as the brand's signature 9m rock-climbing wall offering an incredible view of the sea, and a miniature golf course which promises endless fun for the whole family.

In addition, one can savor the wide variety of mouth-watering international cuisine whilst enjoying the sea view from the two-tier glass-walled Romeo and Juliet Dining Room, watch dazzling Broadway-style musicals, or relax in the Solarium's indoor/outdoor pool with retractable glass roof. As for the younger guests, they will be entertained by the Adventure Ocean activities for multiple age groups. Most of all, the cruise comes in a winning package of value, with virtually everything included in the price.

-End-

About Royal Caribbean International

Royal Caribbean International is a global cruise brand with 20 ships currently in service and two under construction. The line also offers unique cruisetour vacations in Alaska, Canada, Dubai, Europe, and Australia and New Zealand. For additional information or to make reservations, call your travel agent or visit www.royalcaribbean.com. Travel professionals should go to www.cruisingpower.com.

Media Contact

Chin Ying Duan (Ms)
Corporate Communications Manager
DID: (65) 6305 0023
HP: (65) 9727 3868
Email: YDChin@rcl.com